

CALDO- Helping you find your Master, Doctoral and Postdoctoral program in Canada

The CALDO Consortium consists of nine of Canada's major research universities (click on each university to find the graduate programs):

- University of Alberta;
- Université Laval;
- Dalhousie University;
- University of Calgary;
- University of Ottawa;
- Queens University;
- University of Saskatchewan;
- Western University;
- University of Waterloo

CALDO universities are located in different regions of Canada and offer world class academic -programs in English and French in the areas of Science, Technology, Engineering, Social Sciences and Medicine.

The CALDO advantages

1. "One Stop". CALDO provides a single access point of access to nine of Canada's major research universities. Together, these universities offer world leading programs for candidates interested in doing research in a broad variety of areas of knowledge.
2. "Matching service" Finding an academic program in a foreign country is difficult. The CALDO team can help make this process easier and faster for you. CALDO provides a simplified admission process that includes support finding the right program and supervisor that best suit you.
3. "Personalized information" Quick and personalized answers to your questions, to support you in your application process
4. "The power of data" CALDO is a hub of information for helping you in selecting the best university and program for you. We want to support you in making the right decision for your future.

To learn more about the programs available studies and admission criteria visit the CALDO website www.caldo.ca or send an e-mail to the Graduate Program Coordinator - graduate.coordinator@caldo.ca

CALDO member universities are waiting for you!!

Be part of a great international experience in Canada.