ACADEMICS, STUDENTS,

COME TOGETHER TO THINK AND
CREATE NEW AND INNOVATIVE WAYS
OF COOPERATION BETWEEN THE
ACADEMIC, PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SPHERES

Chile-California Conference (C3) is an annual conference with the objective to promote the exchange of ideas and create an international collaboration between academics, students, entrepreneurs, and professionals from Chile and California. This initiative started in 2012 as a collaborative work between Chilean students in UC Davis, Stanford, and UC Berkeley supported by the Chilean General Consulate in San Francisco, Chile Global, and the Chile-California Council.

After two successful events, this year's conference will take place on October 31st and November 1st at UC Berkeley and will be focused on the social and economic challenges that Chile and California share. We will ask: How to innovate and grow while striving for an inclusive and sustainable development that reduces existing levels of inequality?

We firmly believe in the importance of making Chile and California economically efficient societies that promote sustainable development in both the medium and long term while striving for equality and social inclusion.

C3 is a young and growing initiative that we want to transform in a long-term tradition aimed at contributing to the mutual development of Chile and California. We already have organized two very successful versions gathering more than 200 people. The current year we will all meet at UC Berkeley campus.
